We encourage everyone to support our students while staying up on pertinent Heidelberg news on CV-TV.

A MOMENT WITH THE MAYOR

Rebecca and I hope that everyone had the beginnings of a Happy and Healthy New Year. As far as my position as mayor goes, the New Year promises to be interesting. This year, I begin my fifth term as mayor, certainly an interesting prospect, at least from my perspective. I must say I have enjoyed my duties as mayor, and Rebecca and I are humbled by the trust you have put in us to represent the Borough as best we can. We thank all Heidelbergundians very much. Also unique to this year is the installation of three new faces on Council. I do look forward to working with new Councilmembers, Ricky Jordan, Carrie Nolan, and Rick Pattinato. New faces and new ideas can never be a bad thing. Another addition to the Borough's list of resources is Bill Downey, the new full-time Public Works Employee. Bill joins Mark Turnbull and gives Heidelberg two full-time Public Works staff members, a first in my tenure as mayor and reflects the growing scope of the Borough's public infrastructure. Some may question the need for a second public works employee. Regarding that question, let me say a few words: During my tenure as mayor: The number of Borough parks has grown from two, Ellsworth Avenue Playground and the First Street Tot Lot, to six, with the addition of the Heidelberg Park on Industry Way, the Washington Street Parklet, the Gas House Garden on Collier Avenue and the Louporex Park or the Linear Rain Garden along Route 50. The Borough added two new streets to its inventory, Coal Road and Short Street, and added three new public buildings, the Comfort Station/Restroom at the Heidelberg Park, the Community Room Building at 1639 East Railroad Street, and the Borough rental property at 1643 East Railroad Street. The Borough's inventory of public works vehicles grew from one, a public works truck, to three, two trucks and a backhoe. In addition, the Route 50 streetscape project promises to add dozens of new ornamental lamp posts, public benches, trash cans and planters along the business district of the town. Significantly, all these new public parks, public roads, public buildings, municipal vehicles and street furnishings, plus a myriad of others public improvements, all need care: The parks need to be mowed, cleaned, serviced and/or maintained in some way. The new roadways need plowed and salted in the winter. The new restroom facilities and trash receptacles must be kept clean. The new street lights must be maintained, and the flowers watered. So if one is curious as to why Council added a second public works employee, look around the Borough and you will see that the public infrastructure of the Borough has increased by several million dollars since I first became mayor sixteen years ago, providing more public services and amenities than it ever has. So as I said above, this New Year promises to be interesting. Fortunately, the new Councilmembers and the new Public Works employee seem to be up to the challenge of providing all us Heidelbergundians with the best service they can which promises to make Heidelberg the best, most livable place it can be. Well enough for now. May God Bless.

Respectfully submitted,
Kenneth A. LaSota, Ph.D., Mayor

Street Scape Inspector Joe Radosy, Mayor LaSota & Congressman Murphy during recent inspection of Rt. 50.

SENIOR CITIZENS CAN REGISTER FOR ACCESS AT BOROUGH BUILDING

Heidelberg's Senior Citizens are reminded that they can register for ACCESS's 65 Plus Program at the Borough Manager's Office. ACCESS is door-to-door, advanced reservation, shared-ride transportation which is provided throughout Allegheny County, and is open to the general public. They provide service seven days per week, from 6:00AM to midnight. There are no restrictions on the purpose or number of trips which may be taken by ACCESS riders, except riders are required to share the vehicle with other riders who are traveling at the same time in the same direction. Ride sharing helps ACCESS to make the best use of available vehicles and keep costs down.

ACCESS has also organized a special Heidelberg Group Shopping Day for our residents. It is every Thursday, between 10:00-12:30. They pick you up at your home and take you to Shop n Save in Raceway Plaza. The fare is $1 each way. Interested participants have to call the day in advance before 1:00 PM to schedule your ride. The Heidelberg Borough Council and Mayor thank ACCESS for making such a program available to our citizenry.

ANOTHER CASE OUT OF WASHINGTON HIGHLIGHTING THE IMPORTANCE OF MAINTAINING LOCAL CONTROL

By: Congressman Tim Murphy

In times of emergency, fire hydrants keep our homes, families and neighborhoods safe; but the familiar fixtures came under attack recently when a proposed Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) rule threatened to drain both fire hydrants and taxpayer dollars.

Highlighting the disconnect between overreaching regulations coming out of Washington and the impact they have on local communities, the EPA attempted to regulate fire hydrants by requiring all fireplugs installed after January 4, 2014 to meet federal drinking water standards. Previously, fire hydrants were specifically exempt because they are not used to supply drinking water.

This foolhardy effort by the EPA would cost municipalities and taxpayers untold millions. It also would result in an economic loss to manufacturers that have a current inventory built to meet current federal standards, which would have been rendered useless and unable to be sold under the new regulations.

Recognizing the need to stop this effort, I signed onto a letter to the EPA challenging the agency's ability to put forth these new regulations and I also urged for a permanent exemption for fire hydrants, just as they had been exempted in past interpretations of the law.

Shortly thereafter, Congress took action. By an overwhelming majority the House voted, with my support, to pass the Community Fire Safety Act to protect the rights of local communities on fire hydrant installation. The bill passed the Senate and was signed into law. Now hydrants will be treated the same as past years, while also upholding public health priorities under the Safe Drinking Water Act. And moving forward, the EPA must consult with the National Drinking Water Advisory Council, comprised of members of the general public, state and local agencies, on federal regulations so that the voices of local communities are heard regarding fire hydrants.

This is a commonsense effort to stop unnecessary federal regulations from reaching into our communities to "fix" a problem that doesn't exist, and sticking taxpayers with the bill.

2014-15 BUDGET PROPOSAL IS MISSED OPPORTUNITY

By: State Senator Wayne Fontana

After three years of deep budget cuts and elimination of essential programs under his administration, Governor Corbett has attempted to rebound by reinstating some funding to critical programs under his 2014-15 budget proposal unveiled in February. However, some of the proposed restorations fall far short of the cumulative cuts over the past three years. The damage has already been done and the consequences have long been evident.

The proposed 2014-15 budget would bring the state's general fund to $29.4 billion, an increase of 3.3 percent from the current year. The spending plan would be balanced with more than $1.1 billion in one time expenditures that will only perpetuate budget problems in future years, while funding more tax cuts for big business, but with no real plan to grow jobs or help our middle-class families.

Cumulative cuts for education have totaled nearly $2.5 billion under this administration. Not only are there no proposed increases in the basic education subsidy for 2014-15, but the new "Ready to Learn" block grants as proposed come with strings attached with regard to how school districts may use this funding.

The governor has finally proposed a greater investment in job training programs, but we should be making a bigger commitment to proven programs that create jobs and help businesses succeed and expand. The administration's agenda of giving big businesses $1.2 billion in tax breaks over the past three years has clearly not worked because far too many people are still out of work.

Over the next several months as the budget is deliberated, I will continue standing with my Senate Democratic colleagues to fight for a budget that is fair for working families, properly funding our schools and provide the necessary resources for our seniors and those individuals who need the most help.

Senator Wayne D. Fontana

HEIDELBERG POLICE DEPARTMENT UPDATES

The Heidelberg Borough Police Department for 2013 responded to over seven hundred calls for service and generated over five hundred and twenty seven police reports of various natures, both in the Borough and in neighboring communities. Those figures reflect a decrease in police reports from 2012 by one hundred and thirty reports and over one hundred and twelve calls. Heidelberg Borough is still one of the safest communities in which to live and raise a family. The Borough has one of the lowest crime rates within the South Hills communities. This is due to its commitment to community policing, ongoing training of its officers, and positive interaction with businesses and residents within this community.

But in the long run it is the residents of this community that deserve a great deal of thanks for their continued vigilance in calling the police when suspicious activities or person are observed within their neighborhoods. Community involvement and neighbors watching out for neighbors is the key and the residents of Heidelberg deserve a great deal of credit for helping to make our community safe.

On behalf of myself, the Mayor, Borough Council and the Officers of the Heidelberg Police Department we thank you. Everyone needs to be aware that beginning in the spring of 2014 the Route 50 renovation will begin again with construction on East Railroad St (Rte 50) and will consist of new sidewalk construction on the west side of East Railroad St, landscaping, new lights, new benches and a number of other projects between First Street and Fourth St. Be aware of the construction zones and new traffic speeds and patterns during construction. (Fines and points are doubled)

As over the last two years, the Mayor, Borough Council and the Heidelberg Police Department have hosted an annual fishing derby in Chartiers Creek with registration and weigh in at Heidelberg Park. I'm happy to say that the 2014 annual Fishing Derby will be held August 9, 2014 from 8AM until 12 Noon, with awards and prizes given out between 12:30 PM and 1:30PM. More details will be posted in July and August for the event.

UPCOMING SUMMER CAMPS

The Recreation Committee has been working on some new events to bring to the residents of Heidelberg, in addition to those events held in years past. As Committee Head, I would like to introduce summer camps for the youths of Heidelberg and our neighboring communities of the Chartiers Valley School District.

Our first camp will be our British Soccer Camp run by Challenger Sports. Soccer players from the United Kingdom come to the US and hold camps for the summer. We will offer a week long camp held at the Heidelberg Park, June 16-20. Times and prices vary based on the age of the child attending. Registration is open and can be completed at www.challengersports.com. This is a wonderful enhancement to current soccer programs in the area. Heidelberg is known for its love of soccer, the Recreation Committee is excited to bring this opportunity to our Borough. If anyone is interested in hosting a member of the Challenger staff for the summer, discounts are available for the program. Please contact Carrie Nolan at NolanHBGcouncil@gmail.com.

The love of Legos is more popular than ever with children! Many large corporations, like Google, are beginning to use Lego building as part of the interview process for job applicants. Heidelberg has paired with Snapology, based in Mt. Lebanon, to bring two weeks of camps to our Community Room. The first week will be held June 23-27 with a morning session and an afternoon session. The morning session offering (9am-12pm) will be Minecraft 1. Children will learn how to navigate the world of Minecraft and create their own Minecraft world. 'Children will bring to life animals, creepers, and their very own Minecraft character. The 'afternoon session offering (1pm-4pm) will be Amusement Park Adventures. Children will have the opportunity to build roller coasters and Ferris wheels and learn about the physics behind the operation of the structures. They will also learn about gears, pulleys, motors, and sensors. Teamwork and problem solving skills are incorporated into the class.

Our second week of Snapology camp will be held July 28- August 1. The morning session offering (9am-12pm) will be Combat Robots. Children will utilize engineering skills, problem solving skills, teamwork, and sportsmanship. Children will construct a robot and apply the knowledge to a friendly competition. The afternoon session offering (1pm-4pm) will be Animation. Children will create a movie using stop motion animation with Lego bricks. At week's end each team will have produced a movie complete with sound effects and dialog. The movies will be uploaded to a secure website for the children to share with friends and family. Registration is open. Each session can accommodate 20 participants and 'registration is on a first come first serve basis. Pricing for residents is $130/session for the week.

Rydzon Bakery was located at 408 First Street, now the site of Desmet's Apartment Building. Owned by the three Rydzon brothers and their wives, Joe and Stella, Michael and Ann and Walter and Blanche Rydzon, until a fire destroyed the building in February 1969. HEIDELBERG RECEIVES GRANT TO RECONSTRUCT ELLSWORTH PLAYGROUND

Thanks to a $45,200 grant from the Pennsylvania Department of Conservation and Natural Resources (DCNR), Heidelberg Borough will be able to rehabilitate the Ellsworth Avenue Playground with a new asphalt play surface, sidewalks, fencing, trees / landscaping and other site improvements. The project is currently being designed by the Borough Engineer and construction is planned for later this year with completion by Light Up Night on November 29th!

This grant award to rehabilitate the 55 year old Ellsworth Avenue Playground is a great opportunity for Heidelberg to improve this wonderful community asset, known by many generations of Heidelberg citizens as one of our community's principal gathering places. With the rehabilitation of the Ellsworth Playground, which will be made possible jointly with this DCNR grant, the Heidelberg Borough Council and Mayor have completely rebuilt or erected four new parks in Heidelberg in the past eight years and brought in $2,357,617.17 in grants for over 64 different projects and programs in our community since 2006.

DCNR is the primary source of state support for Pennsylvania recreation, parks and conservation initiatives. Grant funding from DCNR assists hundreds of communities and organizations across Pennsylvania to plan, acquire, and develop recreation and park facilities, create trails, and conserve open space. "Our grant investments work to bolster our vision for the strength of our economy, the vibrancy of our communities, the health of our families and our quality of life in Pennsylvania," DCNR Secretary Richard Allan said. "These grants allow us to partner with communities so that they can expand and improve the wonderful assets that make the places we call home vital and attractive."

BEING A GOOD NEIGHBOR

Heidelberg would be a happier place if people just followed the rules. In densely developed Heidelberg, where neighbors are as close as 10 feet away, we have rules designed to keep the peace. Heidelberg's code enforcement, police department and Borough Council get a constant stream of complaints from neighbors about neighbors. Sometimes there's a clear-cut ordinance that can be clarified to solve the problem. Other times, the issue falls into the gray area of being neighborly. Regardless, if neighbors can solve the problem by following the law, using common sense or simply taking a minute to look at things from the other person's perspective, life could be much easier. Here are a few suggestions for keeping the peace in your neighborhood:

PUT AWAY THE TRASH: In Heidelberg garbage is not allowed on the curb line until 5:00 PM the day before pickup, which is Thursdays and the trash containers must be returned back from the curb line by 9:00 PM the day of trash collection. Trash containers are to be placed abutting the residence or within the residence. Remember your neighbors, cover your trash cans when possible and do not block the sidewalks when you place your trash out for pickup.

KEEPING UP ON GRASS AND WEEDS DO GOOD DEEDS! Don't let your grass and weeds grow onto your neighbors' lawn. According to the Borough's adopted property maintenance code, grass and weeds can't be any longer than 6 inches. If you plan on going away for a few weeks, make sure you have someone who will take care of your lawn. Also leaving grass clippings out in the roadways and sidewalks is a violation of the Heidelberg code and is subject to fine.

SAFE AND SOUND: Do a safety check of your property from the perspective of neighbors, the paperboy, postal carrier or anyone who may be coming onto your property. Remove obstacles that could cause people to trip or fall. Remember, even if people trespass onto your property, if they get hurt you may be held liable. If you see your neighbor's papers lying outside for a day or so, place the papers somewhere out of sight as a courtesy so it is not apparent that they're out of town.

KEEP THE VOLUME LOW! Heidelberg's barking dog ordinance requires residents to bring their pets inside if they bark for more than 15 minutes. If your dog starts barking, bring it inside right away, and please do not leave your dog unattended in your yard or on your porch while you are out; you have no idea how it may behave in your absence.

Let your neighbors know when you are planning a big party; this will prepare them for the noise and parking issues. Keep the music low, this includes in your backyard, in your teenager's room and in the car.

If you are making major changes to your property, consider it from your neighbor's point of view. You live there, but they have to look at it, and what you do can have an impact on their property value. To make life easier, contact the Borough Office, 412-276-0363, before starting any work, to make sure what you are planning is allowable under our Ordinances, and also to be sure you have the proper permits to do the work.

Considering your neighbors will yield a more attractive, valuable, peaceful, and close-knit community.
